CHAPTER 1

1. BACKGROUND

Public participation is legal requirement of a plethora of Acts including but not limited to; the Constitution: Sections 152 and 195 (e); and the Municipal Systems Act, Sections 16 (1) and 29 (b). Chapter 4 of the Municipal Systems Act calls for the development of a culture of community participation. A municipality must develop a culture of municipal governance that complements formal representative government within a system of participatory governance and must for this purpose encourage and create conditions for the local community to take part in the affairs of the municipality.

Not only is public participation a legal requirement, but it is also a critical component of planning because understanding community's preferred outcomes helps the City plan effectively.

The City is committed to involving communities when developing the Integrated Development Plan and other City plans. This is not only called upon by relevant legislation but also because the City recognizes communities as being central to development and development processes.

Section 34 of the Municipal Systems Act, as cited below is relevant:

Annual review and amendment of integrated development plan:

34. A municipal council— (a) (b) must review its integrated development plan—

(i) annually in accordance with an assessment of its performance measurements in terms of section 4 i; and

(ii) [o the extent that changing circumstances so demand; and may amend its integrated development plan in accordance with a prescribed process

The above Act stipulates that a municipality must review an adopted IDP and budget, on an annual basis. In fulfilling the aforementioned legislative directive, the City has initiated its public participation drive which commenced as early as August 2022. It is to be noted that current public participation for the IDP and Budget is taking a different shape, the change is fuelled by the City noting the challenges and inefficiencies of the previously adopted approaches and most importantly, the need to continuously improve and advance in this space.

2. PUBLIC ENGAGEMENTS

The CoJ recognizes the complex nature of participation and thus structures the engagements in two distinctive ways, being the 1st and 2nd rounds of engagements. The 1st round of engagement is commonly referred to as CBP's (Community Based Planning Sessions). The 1st round of engagements comprises of one-on-one engagements with the 135 wards of the City.

The 2nd round of engagements is referred to as IDP Regional Summits together with Targeted Stakeholder Sessions. These comprise of report back in the form of projects and /or programs to the community needs expressed in the 1st round of engagements to the 7 regions of the city as well as a certain clustering of stakeholders.

The 1st round of engagements took place between September - November 2022. These engagements allowed residents at a ward level, to engage and make valuable inputs on service delivery needs and priorities of the ward in which they reside, ultimately shaping the IDP according to their needs and interests.

2.1 The CoJ Participatory Process

The City takes on the Community Based Planning Methodology to public participation. Community Based Planning emphasises bottom-up planning and the building of sustainable communities. Further to this methodology, the Asset-based Community Development approach (ABCD approach) is used to realise the envisioned outcomes of the participatory process. The ABCD approach is a set of principles that recognizes that people and communities have their own assets, aspirations and capabilities. Assets are tangible (land, money, buildings, human resource) and intangible (networks, skills, wisdom, commitment, leadership, trust). Through this approach a change of perspective is attained which focusses on strengths, abilities, opportunities, talents and gifts as a foundation or starting point for community development. In essence it recognises people as assets and involves development from the inside-out, meaning that we build on existing capabilities. The objective is to co-produce in the delivery or facilitation of services; to encourage community-driven development initiatives and the creation of social capital. This considered a true form of bottom up-planning.

The current public participation process is structured in the following 4 Phases:

01 : Briefing of Political Principals

This was undertaken as part of the induction of the ward councillors as headed by the Legislature Department. The purpose of this phase is to ensure that political principals are introduced to the process and their role and expectations are clarified as early as possible.

02 : Public Participation Launch

This phase involves the civic education component and information sharing. This is done to ensure that all relevant stakeholders are acquainted with the process and further capacitated with the relevant information that allows them to have a worthwhile impact during the actual engagements. It is noted that this phase of the process did not materialise as planned due to time constraints however, a dashboard was created and shared with all. The dashboard contained all the relevant information.

03 : 1st Round of Public Engagements

This phase constitutes the first round of engagements, viz the CBP Sessions. The wards were grouped into 40 clusters. From this clustered arrangement, each ward was then consulted individually. This meant that, each of the 135 CoJ Wards was given the space and time to exercise its voice and come up with its individual priorities. From this approach, each Ward was able to conceptualize and prioritise its own needs, giving effect to bottom-up approach to planning.

04 : 2nd Round of Public Engagements

The 2nd round of engagements consisted of Regional Summits, 7 in total from Regions' A-G and 8 targeted stakeholder sessions. Political principals engaged the public on the outcome of the 1st round of engagements and any other programs/projects relevant for the 2023/24 financial year . These engagements detail what projects and/or programs the City has fashioned in responding to the community issues raised, relevant budgets attached to these issues, proposals related to service tariffs and property taxes.

05 : Feedback and Publication

The last phase to conclude the process is that of providing detailed feedback to all the stakeholders. This is a critical phase in the process as the City has in the past been heavily criticized in this area. It is noted however, that convening public meetings for purposes of providing feedback is not a realistic exercise due to financial requirements brought on by the logistics. Technological means will be mostly utilized in this regard, and where not possible alternatives will be employed.

2.2 The ABCD Approach to the Public Engagements

The Asset-based Community Development approach has proven useful in changing the landscape of public engagements as in the past, the City was seen as the sole driver of these sessions where officials and political principals led conversations and the content generation in this regard. This adopted approach allowed communities to lead the discussions and content generation, with the officials providing guidance and scribing as relevant.

The below was realised because the ABCD approach:

- allowed for a more optimistic approach by focusing on community assets and strengths rather than problems and needs. This brought about a change in perspective as communities took stock of their local strengths and then built from these.
- drove home a sense of ownership and empowerment within the community since the process is internally driven.
- Whatever development proposal was put forth, it started with the community considering what they can do to move things forward, in collaboration with the City (and government as a whole).

Acknowledging that this is somewhat a 'new' approach and process for the City, training was provided for the various facilitators, co-facilitators and scribes to ensure that the engagements were fruitful. A Facilitators' Guide was further developed to aid the training.

Overwhelming support was received from the Gauteng Provincial Government: Cooperative Governance and Traditional Affairs (CoGTA) in the form of training and support in the engagements. It is also important to highlight that CoGTA has since chosen the CoJ as the pilot city for the ABCD Approach. The outcome of this participatory exercise is currently being rolled out in sister municipalities.

During the 1st round of engagements, it was evident that communities are fully capable of solely running the sessions, provided that they have the right training. It is for this reason that the ABCD Facilitator Training is to be extended to all relevant stakeholders and not just the CoJ Facilitation Team (budget allowing). This will aid in skills transfer, relationship building as well as transparency as communities will have an indebt understanding of participatory processes and decisions made in this regard.

2.3 Internalizing the ABCD Approach for CoJ

In internalising the ABCD Approach for CoJ, the following Template was created and utilized in the CBP engagements. This ensured that going into the meeting, all relevant stakeholders had an understanding of the outcomes of a given session. Furthermore, the Outcomes Template was useful in guiding discussions.

The following is relevant in understanding the 1st round of engagements:

- One-on-one engagements were done for all 135 wards of the City.
- Targeted mobilization was implemented, which looked at having a specific set of stakeholders in discussion, contrary opening the meetings to everyone. The said stakeholders comprised of the Ward Councillor, the respective Ward Committees, civic groups and targeted stakeholders. It is noted that improvements around mobilization need to be effected to ensure democratised representation in the sessions. Not all sessions were well attended.
- Each ward was responsible for identifying and prioritizing their needs.
- Each ward submission was endorsed by the attendees in the form of a signature.

As evident on the poster provided, each ward was requested to provide the following:

- 3 Priorities: identify 3 needs solely to be met by the City. Communities ideally, would not have the resources/capacity to meet such needs.
- 1 Low Hanging Fruit: a quick turnaround project (e.g. 12 months) for the collaboration of communities and the City.
- 1 Community Driven Project: a project driven solely by communities. This project is not for the City to 'respond to', it is included in acknowledgment of the great work currently being done by Communities. The work will be showcased and further serve as motivation for other CoJ Communities to mobilise in this regard.

3.2 What the 1st Round of Engagements Looked Like

The ward per ward community engagements were workshop-style in nature, allowing back-and-forth discussions amongst the stakeholders whilst moving toward a collective outcome. Targeted mobilization was done by way of a ward audit that sort to source critical role-players representing active community structures in each ward. This was to ensure that a progressive consultative engagement took place with relevant stakeholders in the room.

The manner in which the sessions were conducted was a notable improvement from previous public engagements. In most instances, the communities led the sessions and took an active part in all aspects of the day; from chairing, facilitating and scribing.

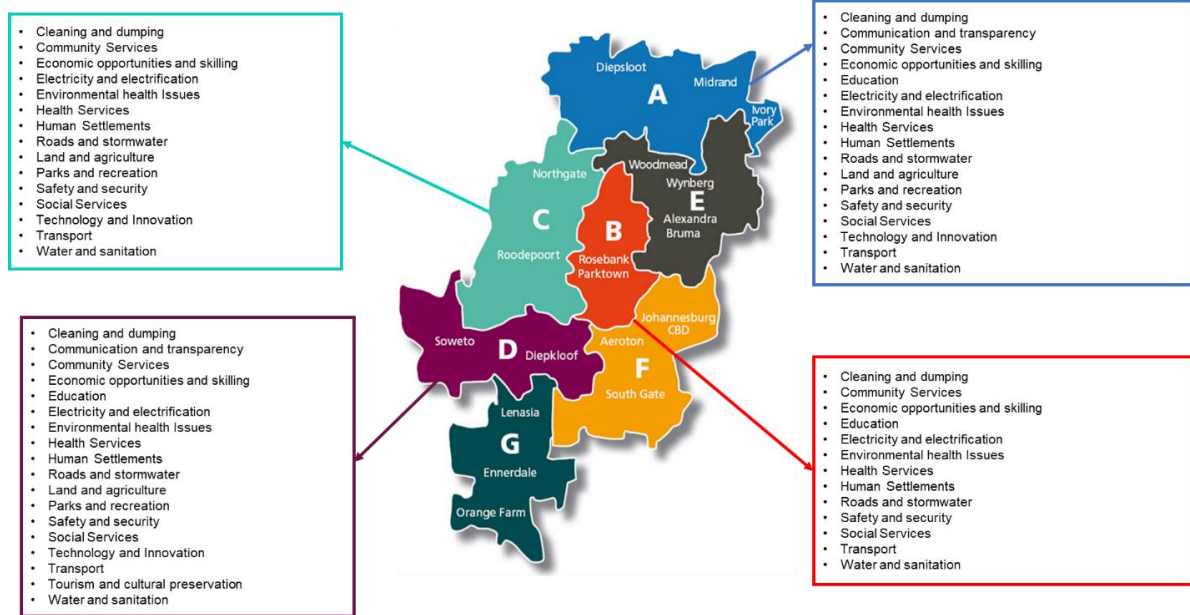

This resulted in positive feedback from the stakeholders being: Ward Councillors, PR Councillors, Ward Committees, active community stakeholders and active community structures. In some instances, ordinary community members also walked in and attended the sessions. The following are some visuals from the 1st round of engagements:

3.3 Summative Outcomes of the 1st Round of Engagements

The received community needs have been analysed and grouped into themes. It is to be noted that issues raised in the various 7 regions are very similar in nature. This is attributed to the fact that challenges faced by communities are interdependent. One issue easily ties itself onto another, hence similar themes being evident in the various regions. This speaks to the need for a comprehensive and multi-disciplinary approach from the City's perspective.

4 THE 2ND ROUND OF PUBLIC PARTICIPATION: THE IDP REGIONAL SUMMITS

A total of 7 Regional IDP Summits were held, each in Regions' A to G of the City.

The regional summits comprised of 2 sessions (pre-meeting and the actual meeting). The Pre-Meeting was the first part of the session where the public was given an opportunity to interact with service Departments and Entities. This approach was introduced as means to remedy communities raising service delivery issues as opposed to engaging with the proposed IDP, Budget and Tariffs. Furthermore, the intent was to also ensure that communities derive the most from these sessions, by being given ample time to raise and have their issues resolved by the relevant service Departments and Entities, prior to the actual IDP session commencing.

Departments and Entities (as well as sister entities within the development space) set up service delivery stalls in each IDP Regional Summit and engaged with communities, addressing any service delivery queries. This section of the day took a market style form, viz Service Delivery Market Day (a total of 2 hours was set aside for this, for each regional summit).

4.2 What the 2nd Round of Engagements Looked Like

The following are some visuals of the Service Delivery Market Day (pre-meeting)

The inclusion of the Service Delivery Market Day was considered a great success as communities were able to engage with the following Departments and Entities: Human Settlements, Joburg Water, Environment and Infrastructure Environment (EISD), Transport, City Parks and Zoo, Development Planning, Community Development, Social Development, City Power, Economic Development, Revenue, Health, Public Safety and EMS, Pikitup, Ombudsman, etc. It should be noted that the IDP Meetings were also attended by SAPS and COGTA Officials.

Following the 2-hour Service Delivery Market Day, the second part of the day commenced which entailed a formal meeting chaired by the Speaker of Council and the Mayor (or his elected representatives gave the IDP, Budget and Tariffs' Presentation. Thereafter community inputs were received with MMCs (with their Senior Executive Officials and respective support teams) assisting in responding to questions as relevant to their respective mandates. The following are some visual from these meetings:

5.2 Summative Outcomes of Targeted Stakeholder Sessions

The following is a summary of the key outcomes from the targeted stakeholder sessions:

Openness and transparency. Set out processed forehand.

Reasonable and fair rate increases.

PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES

LGBTQIA+

ACADEMIA

NGOs, CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS & RATE PAYERS

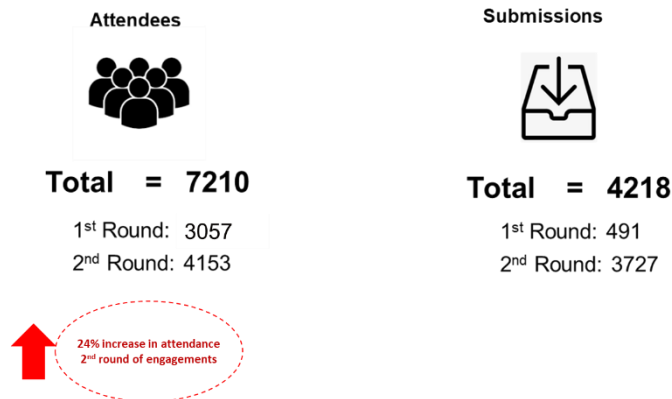

FAITH BASED ORGANIZATIONS

CREATIVE ARTS & SPORTING BODIES

Having concluded both the 1st and 2nd round of participation, a consolidated static is reflected below:

In totality, the above numbers are lower than those from the previously year. This is attributed to the manner in which the mobilization was done for the 1st round of public participation. As previously mentioned, these sessions took on a workshop style approach that saw targeted mobilization being done as opposed to convening a ward meeting for all community members.

It should be noted however that the total number for attendees in the 7 Regional Summits has increased from 3129 to 4153, which translates to a 25% increase in attendance.

Notwithstanding the above, it is important to mention that community members and other relevant stakeholders are losing faith in city processes and this is leading to a continuous regress in the quality of participation.

7 REFLECTIONS

1st Round of Engagements

- Highlights of the sessions include positive feedback from the attendees:
  - o Targeted mobilization was a good mechanism to get worthwhile discussions going. It was less about the numbers but the value added by attendees.
  - o Prioritisation from the bottom-up was possible as communities did it on their own.
  - o The CoGTA partnership.
- More training is still needed, for the right people.
- The City needs to be proactive and lay policies that allow for collaborative working.

It is to be noted that although the invitations were sent to all the above-mentioned stakeholders, not all attended for each ward. In the event where attendance was low, the outcome of the ward engagements was then routed to the relevant ward councillors and ward communities to endorse/add were necessary. The City is continuously pursuing further improvements on the attendance and participation of these sessions, to reach a propositional representation sample for each ward

2nd Round of Engagements

Despite the various challenges introduced by the delays brought by the changes in the political space, public engagements were successful. More needs to be done however, to ensure that the City is able to draw a clear parallel between the outcome of the CBP Sessions and the feedback during the Regional Summits, in a given year.

8 STRATEGIC ELEVATION OF ISSUES FOR THE CITY OF JOHANNESBURG'S COMMUNITY BASED PLANNING PROGRAMME

In efforts to ensure that the implementation of programs/projects addressing peoples' needs is elevated, the City has resolved to take a programmatic approach to community needs; hence the Community Based Planning Programme.

The City of Johannesburg's Community Based Planning Programme recognizes the importance of addressing key issues that directly impact the lives of its residents. By strategically elevating these issues, the program aims to foster positive change and improve the overall quality of life for communities within the city. Among the multitude of challenges facing Johannesburg, several key issues have been identified as crucial focal points for strategic elevation.

Cleaning and dumping are pressing concerns within many neighbourhoods, affecting public health and environmental well-being. By prioritizing this issue, the Community Based Planning Programme seeks to implement effective waste management strategies, educate communities about responsible waste disposal, and promote cleanliness throughout the city. This further includes grass-cutting and the beautification of green spaces.

Communication and transparency are vital for fostering trust and meaningful engagement between the city administration and its residents. By emphasizing this issue, the program aims to improve communication channels, enhance public participation in decision-making processes, and ensure that relevant information is accessible to all.

Community services play a crucial role in enhancing the well-being of residents. By strategically elevating this issue, this seeks to assess and address the gaps in service delivery, strengthen social support networks, and promote community empowerment through the provision of essential services.

Cemeteries are important spaces for honouring and remembering loved ones. By giving attention to this issue, the program aims to ensure the maintenance and preservation of cemeteries, create tranquil and respectful environments, and provide adequate burial spaces for the community.

Economic opportunities and skilling are vital for promoting inclusive growth and reducing inequality. By prioritizing this issue, the program seeks to facilitate access to job opportunities, promote entrepreneurship, and invest in skills development initiatives to empower individuals and communities.

Electricity and electrification are essential for economic development and improving the quality of life. By prioritizing this issue, the program seeks to address energy poverty, expand access to reliable electricity, and promote the use of sustainable and renewable energy sources.

The preservation of environmental health is crucial for a sustainable future. By emphasizing this issue, the program aims to address pollution, promote waste reduction and recycling, and create green spaces that enhance the overall well-being of residents.

Health services are fundamental to ensuring the well-being of communities. By strategically elevating this issue, the program seeks to improve access to healthcare facilities, enhance primary healthcare services, and promote health education and awareness.

Human settlements are critical for providing safe and dignified housing. By prioritizing this issue, the program aims to address housing shortages, upgrade informal settlements, and promote affordable and sustainable housing options for all residents.

Land availability and agriculture are key resources for promoting food security and economic development. By emphasizing this issue, the program seeks to support small-scale farming initiatives, promote sustainable land use practices, and ensure equitable access to land and agricultural resources.

Parks, recreation spaces and capacity around sporting activities are essential for a community's well-being and leisure activities. By giving attention to this issue, the program aims to improve the maintenance and accessibility of parks, promote recreational activities, and create inclusive spaces for residents of all ages. In addition to increasing capacity for sporting activities.

Grass-cutting is not only essential for beautifying spaces but also ensures that open/green spaces retain the function they are intended for. By strategically elevating this issue the program seeks to ensure that communities have access to safe and clean recreational areas that are also safe for all.

Policing and the implementation of City bylaws are crucial for maintaining law and order within communities. By strategically elevating this issue, the program seeks to improve community-police relations, enhance law enforcement capabilities, and promote the effective enforcement of city bylaws to ensure the safety and well-being of residents.

Roads and stormwater management are critical for ensuring safe and efficient transportation. By prioritizing this issue, the program aims to improve road infrastructure, address traffic congestion, and implement effective stormwater management systems to mitigate flood risks.

Rates and revenue generation are essential for financing municipal services and infrastructure. By emphasizing this issue, the program seeks to promote efficient revenue collection processes, address issues of non-payment, and ensure the equitable allocation of resources for the benefit of all residents.

Safety and security are paramount for fostering thriving communities. By strategically elevating this issue, the program aims to enhance community safety initiatives, improve emergency response systems, and promote the active involvement of residents in ensuring their own security.

Social services are critical for addressing the needs of vulnerable populations. By prioritizing this issue, the program seeks to enhance social support systems, provide assistance to marginalized groups, and promote inclusive social policies that uplift the most disadvantaged.

Transport is crucial for ensuring mobility and connectivity. By prioritizing this issue, the program aims to improve public transportation systems, enhance infrastructure for pedestrians and cyclists, and promote sustainable modes of transport to reduce congestion and air pollution.

Water and sanitation are essential for public health and well-being. By emphasizing this issue, the program seeks to improve access to clean water, upgrade sanitation facilities, and implement sustainable water management practices to ensure the availability of this vital resource for all residents.

By strategically elevating these key issues, the City of Johannesburg's Community Based Planning Programme aims to address the diverse challenges faced by its communities, foster inclusive development, and create a sustainable and vibrant city for all residents.

9 PROPOSED FUNDING FOR THE COMMUNITY BASED PROGRAMME

The City has made available an estimated budget of R50 million to begin to fund the programs/projects that seek to respond to the issues raised by communities during the engagements. Departments/Entities are still to budget and implement CBP programs and projects from their budget allocations. This R50 million is to supplement the response of Departments/Entities to CBP issues via JDA for quick project packaging and implementation.

This amount will likely see an annual increase based on the successful implementation of the identified projects.

B	99	What is the current median salary for all municipal clerks? What budget is being allocated to improve municipal buildings and how are the increases going to IMPROVE not just maintain. Because no maintenance is being done. Where have all current funds gone?
B	99	The infrastructure is falling apart. You are losing your tax base as people are moving out of the area.
B	99	How do we hold our city entities accountable?
B	99	The parks and recreation areas are not being maintained, and it is not safe as people are being mugged, robbed and the spaces are being trashed.
B	99	How do we get our roads resurfaced? You cannot plug a pothole in a road that is falling apart!
B	99	We are told that JMPD hands are tied when by-laws are broken because they have been sued previously. Can you explain pls?
B	99	Can you please explain why the city centre has deteriorated so much. The roads are in a very poor state, there is trash everywhere, there is no investment.
B	99	We have holes and roads damaged by the city's agencies. We have reported it for years and nothing gets done. How do we get these problems resolved?
B	68	No project in our Area/ No visibility of the council/ not informing us about our progress
B	68	No development, nothing is happening
B	68	No infrastructure
B	68	We will be happy to have a creche, there is no creche in our community, our children are suffering
B	68	We need a school. Its been 10 years Pennyville still doesn't have a school
B	68	Our ward is not developing it is on a stand still.
B	68	There are brokern roads, potholes, grass and shrubs everywhere
B	68	Land that was reserved for a school is used for a shebeen that operates 24/7
B	68	We need more industries not the Chinese ones that are illegal foreigners
B	68	There are industries that occupy most of ward 68 and they hire illegal immigrants whilst our children are unemployed.
B	68	What is the property rates rebate for persons 60-69? Could not see the full screen
B	68	What is the correct process or channels to go through to obtain approval to close of a single residential street with control access, funded by the residents of the street?
B	68	Pensioners just cannot afford to live anymore. Basic things are becoming unaffordable. We have no more to cut back on. Especially government pensioners.
B	68	I would like to see all capex projects over all regions in 1 Document!!
B	68	Want to re-iterate what Tony from Ward 99 said. We pay a lot and receive very little back. Ward 99 has no capex. We have business nodes that provide many employment for the region. I would like to see what revenue is collected from us and what percentage we receive back!! most probably single digit figures like 6 or 7 %.
B	68	What is being done about the coj billing issues? We are still being billed on estimated readings even though actual readings are submitted?

B	68	The COJ cannot manage the entire metro unless regions are given the ability to control, check and decide how and when finances should be spent. Our Councillor is very active but your GIS needs a reboot. We are happy to help.
B	68	All parties must work for us. And learn to work together as a team.
B	68	If we want service to be delivered, we need to pay for it and the city must deliver. It's quite simple. In Mayfair, owners have let their houses to 30 people while they have happily moved to Greenside. The city has done nothing. Even when Hitler (yes its his name) came. The Councillor at the time was not good.
B	68	Now, i am dealing with a school in Ferndale that did not get permission to open a school as it is for an office. The city has let Randburg also go to a dumpster.
B	68	I fought very hard and worked very hard for the city. From the CBD to Randburg and from east gate to Langlaagte. I just do not get it. Your IDP is ,lastly a copy and past job.
B	68	Neither can I. But I am just voicing my opinion after paying very high rates and taxes for services not received.
B	68	Now I am about to move to the Cape. I cannot find any potholes. Everything works. The city answered my call in 1 minute and 20 seconds. Maybe they need to assist you
B	68	The poor are being totally marginalized and ignored. People wake up at 4:30 to reach work at 7:30. Why is the transport system so awful. Rea Vaya could have been the magic bullet. It's clean, on time and I have used it.
B	68	Lawlessness is not an option. It is illegal and a problem for many people who want to live in peace. We want a city for the people
B	68	Rates and taxes should drop because the property prices have tanked. Check your GIS. Why ask us to provide you with recent sales. Can you not connect with the Deeds office? We objected
B	68	Windsor iyinkinga enkulu. (Windsor it's a big problem)
B	68	Good point. Ward 99. What are we receiving for the numerous increases you put on us. No road markings. Potholes. Crime on bompas. Whew
B	68	The waste pickers should have designated areas. They work very hard.
B	68	There is no law and order. The bylaws are not being implemented. People drink on the verges. We complain. The city does nothing.
