TERMS OF REFERENCE (TOR) FOR THE IMPLEMENTATION OF NORMS AND STANDARDS FOR AMBIENT AIR QUALITY MONITORING (ISO 17025)

CITY OF JOHANNESBURG

1. OBJECTIVE

To appoint a specialised service provider to develop quality system for the City of Johannesburg's Air Quality Monitoring Network as set out by the draft national norms and standards for air quality monitoring.

2. BACKGROUND

In terms of the Air Quality Act, Metropolitan and District Municipalities are charged with monitoring ambient concentrations of priority pollutants as set out in the act. The City of Johannesburg is currently operating and maintaining eight fixed and one mobile ambient air quality monitoring stations. Data collected from these monitoring stations plays a key role in making informed decisions about the measures required to protect the health & safety of citizens and protection of the environment itself.

South Africa does not have clear standards and guidelines in how to undertake ambient air quality monitoring. However, this is about to change with the proposed release of the Norms and Standards for Air Quality Monitoring (NSAQM), the document that will provide the requirements and set the standard for how ambient air quality monitoring is to be conducted in South Africa. This document will supersede all other existing reference documents in South Africa, such as SANAS TR07-03. One of the requirements of the NSAQM is that owners operate their air quality monitoring equipment in accordance with a formal and robust quality assurance/quality control (QA/QC) systems, preferably developed in line with ISO 17025. The City currently does not have a quality system in place but plans to develop such a system.
